Full Program of Sports for Saturday

The postponed sports will be away with a bang Saturday morning at 10 o'clock when a full program of races for school children will begin.

At 1 o'clock Queenstown and Arrowwood will oppose each other in the first baseball game. At 3 o'clock Carseland and Gleichen take the diamond.

At 6 p.m. the two winners meet for the final.

Besides these main attractions, there will be a softball game between the Arrowwood girls and Cluny. Also a basketball game with the Arrowwood Aces representing the town.

Can Wheat Production Costs Be Reduced?

At present prices, profits from grain production have practically disappeared. Numerous remedial measures have been proposed. One suggestion of apparent merit is to reduce cost of production. A number of questions are thus presented: What is the normal cost of producing grain? What is the variation in the cost? Can costs of production be reduced? If so to what extent and by what methods can reductions be affected.

In an endeavour to answer such questions the Dominion Experimental farms have made a careful study of production costs on the Prairie Provinces during the last few years. The results of this study will be released shortly in a bulletin of the Dominion Department of Agriculture entitled the "Cost of Producing Farm Crops in the Prairie Provinces." The publication presents details on how to calculate the cost of producing crops, the cost of producing crops on the Dominion Experimental Farms on the Dominion Illustration Stations and on a number of privately owned farms in the Provinces. Farm budgets are presented, showing the cost of producing wheat on different sized farms operated with different equipment. Additional data are included on the life of machinery, the cost of tractor operation and the normal day's farm work.

The average cost of producing wheat after fallow on eight Dominion Experimental farms for the period 1923-1930 has been $17.40 per acre for a 27.4 bushel yield or 64c per bushel. The average cost of producing wheat after fallow on a number of privately owned farms in 1929 was found to be $17.50 per acre for a yield of 22.3 bushels or 78c per bushel. These are average figures. Great variations, exist, however, in the cost of producing wheat. For example the cost per acre on these farms for wheat after fallow ranged from as high as $24.77 to a low cost of $9.52. These figures indicate the extent of possible reduction in the per acre cost of producing wheat.

The P.T.A. Annual School Picnic a Grand Success

The Annual School Picnic sponsored by the P.T.A. was held Saturday, last. The children assembled at the school at 10 a.m., full of energy and vigor for a day of excitement. Trucks and cars transported the large number to picnic grounds where a hearty appetite was hastened by physical rambles through the woods. At 12.30 o'clock the efficient group of waitresses served the hungry throng of children in cafeteria style. The parents and teachers sat down to a heavily laden table after the children's appetites were satisfied.

During the afternoon, sports which took the form of racing and jumping were the main events. Upon conclusion of these the next item of interest was the tug of war between the teams captained by Norman Earl and Chester Beagle. After one successful pull and won by Norman's Huskies both sides were let down hard when the rope broke.

A special treat of ice-cream was served to the children at this time and then a softball game between the married men and the high school brought the day's events to a happy conclusion.

The committee wish to thank the merchants of Arrowwood for their contributions of nuts and candies.

Gleichen to Have a Covered Rink

The Gleichen Athletic Club has put through a deal with G. I. Jones and have purchased his barn and out buildings, for the proposed new rink. Actual work of tearing down the building will not start for a few days yet. All obstacles in regard to taking over the barn have been removed.

Dr. Esler has discovered a new disease. He calls it "Pipe-lighter Thumb." It comes from using the thumb to wheel the corrugated wheel on a pipe-lighter. The symptoms are swelling of the second joint of the thumb, partial paralysis, a blackened conditioned at the end of the member and inability to make the lighter function. The disease is neither contagious nor infectious.—Cereal Recorder.

Baseball

Arrowwood 14-Carseland 4

The Arrowwood Baseball club made their initial appearance for the season at the Carseland diamond last Saturday evening. With ideal weather conditions prevailing, the game started with much enthusiasm. Lefty Stewart on the mound for Carseland found much difficulty in controlling his benders throughout the game and the timely hitting of the Arrowwood team gave them a 14-4 victory. Fred Miller and Mervin Norton formed the battery and Miller was complete master of the situation. Sensational fielding by Max Philipps of Carseland and home runs by Archambault and McCullough were features of the game.

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Ar'wood 4 5 1 1 1 1 0 0 1—14
C'land 1 1 1 0 1 0 0 0 0—4

Arrowwood 10-Queenstown 6

Playing their second game of the season the Arrowwood Club added another victory Wednesday night at Queenstown when they were on the long end of a 10-6 score at the end of the 8th inning. Manager Chrestenson presented a re-arranged line-up and though several errors were made, the boys hit well for a decision. Melvin Bowman pitched a good game for Arrowwood and Mason's double play in the seventh was spectacular. Sharpe of Queenstown sent a long drive into centre field for the only home run of the game.

Arrowwood Masons Guests at Hussar Lodge Picnic

Arrowwood Masons and their families were guests of the Hussar Lodge of A.F. and A.M. at a picnic held at the river Sunday. Over a hundred sat in to a basket lunch spread beneath the trees. Owing to delayed notice and no rural telephone service, several members in the Arrowwood district could not be notified. Ice cream and lemonade were dispensed with a free hand.

Mrs. J. S. Culp Guest of Honor at Surprise Party

Rev. J. S. Culp planned and carried out in a very unique way, a pleasant birthday party for his wife, last Friday evening. They accepted an invitation to accompany Rev. Homer Caskey and wife to Calgary Friday. While absent from home, their children and some of their friends took possession of the home and prepared a bountiful dinner. According to pre-arranged plans they arrived from Calgary about 6 o'clock. When Mrs. Culp opened their door she was completely surprised to see a well prepared dinner and about thirty guests. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Culp, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. John Mason, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Burger, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Norton, Rev. and Mrs. Caskey, Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Culp and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Culp and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beagle and family, Mrs. A. Kauffman, Mrs. J. P. Beagle, Mrs. R. Oliver, Misses Evelyn Burris and Ruby Williams.

After a pleasant evening together the guests departed for their homes, wishing Mrs. Culp many more happy birthdays.

Annual Convention of U.F.W.A. to be Held June 24th

Mrs. Warr, the Provincial Pres., Will be Here

The annual convention of the U.F.W.A. of the Bow River constituency will be held in the Church of the Brethren, Arrowwood, on Friday, June 24th.

The convention opens at 10 a.m. with a musical program. A noon-day lunch will be served in the basement.

At the afternoon session Mrs. Warr (of Wetaaskiwin, president of the U.F.W.A. for Alberta), Mrs. Buckley from Gleichen, and other speakers will be present and give addresses.

All ladies are cordially invited to be present.

Nothing is easier than fault-finding; no talent, no self-denial, no brains, no character are required to set up in the grumbling business.—West.

Dance Revue Enjoyed By a Good Turnout

The dance revue presented by the class of Miss Isabelle MacLeod and Miss Isabelle Mackie last Friday evening was a decided success. Nearly two hours of entertainment was enjoyed by a full house. Encores for several of the numbers had to be refused owing to the necessity of quick changing of costumes.

Considerable time must have been spent in preparing this program and the excellent way in which it was rendered by the children is indeed a credit to their instructors.

Elaborate costumes portraying each actor's part gave that touch of fineness that is so often lacking.

Mr. L. F. Chrestenson acted as chairman and announced the following program:

Toymaker's Dream—Chorus by Class.

Blowing Bubbles—Song and Dance—Gladys Leonard, Betty Rhea Jones, Shirley Taylor, Inger Nissen, Loretta Weins, Dorothy Hesketh, Hazel Taylor, Charlotte Kelly, Betty Williams and Mary Weins.

Recitation—Gladys Leonard Hickory, Dickery, Dock—Dorothy Jean Jones, Doris House, Norma House, Margaret Williams, Joyce Robinson, Myrtle McCrea.

Apron Song—Shirley Taylor, Gladys Leonard, Doris House, Mary Weins and Dorothy Jean Jones.

Piano Solo—Hazel Taylor.

Alas and Alack—Action song. Leila and Audrey Service.

The Crested Hen—a dance by Betty Jones, Hazel Taylor and Loretta Weins.

Sunbonnet Sally and Overall Jim—by Betty Rhea Jones, Betty Ann Kemper, Charlotte Kelly and Betty Williams.

Recitation—Myrtle McCrea.

Swedish Clap Dance and Sleepy Town Express.

Intermission—10 minutes.

The Rag Doll's Birthday Party—a play.

The Scene—A nursery. Time—12 o'clock midnight. "God Save the King."

Study Arctic Conditions

Fifty years ago, parties of geologists were stationed along the northern parts of Canada for a period of about one year, making observations of weather conditions. This year is another polar year and parties consisting each of four or six men are being sent north in Canada. Canadian groups will be at Chesterfield, on the Hudson's Bay and at the mouth of the Coppermine River. The third group, now enroute to Canada, will be the British group, who will travel to Edmonton and thence by rail to Waterways, Alta., from where they will complete their trip by canoe and

A Neglected Phase

Across Canada next Sunday one of our Canadian churches is devoting its thought to the religious life of the farmer. There were the good old days when the U.F.A. had its regular Sunday in June and the ministers were always glad to co-operate with the officers of the local in planning and putting across the worship program. And we recall no waning of interest, rather short cut officials saw no use for the clause "spiritual uplift" in the constitution and headquarters no longer sent out the invitation and helpful materials for the service.

The same idea is now approached from a different angle and perhaps for the better. We are rather sorry that it comes from the denominational impulse. But so much of the soul has been sacrificed in some of our co-operative movements that there may be real value in it. At all events, we are again to have a Farmers' Sunday.

There is no doubt that the economic side of rural life should receive adequate attention. And any indications of the breaking down of a solid front may well be viewed with anxiety. But most of the pages of history are filled with the story of the wreckage of political and economic movements which forgot God. And now as in the days gone by, the real atheism is not the denial of the existence of God but the acting as if there were no God. And farmer economics and politics can no more afford to ignore Him than any other.

And while the present move is narrowed from one standpoint it is immeasurably widened from another. Non-members of locals might well have felt out of it in the older U.F.A. services but this distinction is now erased. And it is being put on by a church that is at least trying to give expression of the hearts and minds of the Canadian people and whose ministry and membership are marked by the widest differences of thought. So we can do no better than forget for a few minutes any differences which we personally may cherish and let the country speak the religion of life that we all know lies at its heart.

The Towel

The germs of disease must gain entrance into our bodies before they can cause harm. If we are to protect ourselves we must take precautions to keep these our enemies, from penetrating beyond the outside of our bodies, where they are harmless. It is our own hands which frequently give germs their opportunity to gain entrance into our bodies. In the ordinary course of our daily lives, our hands come into contact with many objects we touch and handle many things which may have been soiled by the secretions of other persons. In shaking hands, substances which may be on the hand of one individual are transferred to the hand of another.

It is obvious that we are very likely to have on the surface of our hands the germs of disease. As long as they remain there they can do us no harm, but once they pass the lips, they are given their opportunity to cause trouble.

If you will watch a number of people, you will see most of them frequently put their hands to their faces. They touch their lips or their nostrils some even put their fingers in their mouths. Food which is touched while being prepared or in eating carries into the mouth whatever was deposited on it by the hands.

To prevent the dangers arising out of such habits, we advise that no one touch food unless the hands have been washed thoroughly and also that the hands be kept away from the face, unless a handkerchief is being used.

Washing the hands means more than dipping them into water and wiping them on a towel. When we say wash the hands we mean a thorough washing with soap and water and the use of a nail brush until the skin is clean and the nails are clean.

When the hands are clean as a result of washing, they should then be dried on a clean towel. Even after washing, the hands are not clean in the sense of being free from all germs. So it is that these germs which have been left on the hands are not clean in the sense of being free from all germs. So it is that these germs which have been left on the hands are wiped off on the towel. If the towel is used by a second person then this person, in wiping his hands, rubs onto them germs left on the towel by the first user.

This may appear to some of our readers to be rather far-fetched, but we can assure them that there is no exaggeration because it has happened. Towels should be used on a personal basis, each person having and using only his own towel. By taking such simple precautions we can help to protect ourselves from disease germs.

Wash your hands before eating and use only your own towel.

Jack Frost—King of Architects

Jack Frost, nature's greatest architect, completed yet another wonderful job, at Banff, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway through the Rocky Mountains, this winter, when he designed and built the columns of the ice-castle of the Carnival Queen. As is easily seen by the picture, the two great pillars are the outstanding features of the palace. They were built by putting into play, one month before the opening of the great event, two vertical streams of water. Then, more men got busy and built the connecting wall of gleaming transparent ice-blocks, between the two pillars, and set in front of it the great throne of ice, from which the ceremonies of the Carnival were conducted, in the presence of thousands of spectators from all parts of Canada and the United States. Snow and ice contests of all kinds, winter sports in profusion, including the Alberta Provincial Skating Championships, went to make up the programme, which terminated in the election of Miss Margaret J. Nicol, of Drumheller, Alta., well-known as a tennis and hockey enthusiast, as Carnival Queen for 1932. Her picture is shown inset.

Ready for Your Fields— —A New John Deere Disk Tiller with a Field Proved HEAVY-DUTY POWER LIFT

A new John Deere Disk Tiller is ready for your fields. Ready with all the field-proved features that made the old John Deere Tiller the choice of many farmers in this region—plus a heavy-duty power lift of the improved, long-lived John Deere type.

With this important improvement the John Deere Disk Tiller is as easy to handle as a tractor plow. Just a tug on the handy trip rope as you drive along sets the lift to work, raising the disks clear of the ground for turning, backing or transporting; another pull drops the disks to working position.

In addition to the time-saving, effort-reducing advantage of the John Deere heavy-duty power lift, you get the thorough work and great strength for which the John Deere Tiller has always been famous.

Stop in next time you are in town and get acquainted with the new John Deere Disk Tiller. We want to show you all of the features that mean satisfaction.

Care of the Caragana Hedge

(experimental farm note)

Adaption and use of common caragana for hedges and related purposes in the prairie provinces of Canada are forcefully demonstrated by the fact that over fifty tons of seed were collected and sold in 1931. Enquiries concerning the care of this hedge prompts a summary of the most important facts.

While caragana can be started in a permanent location from seed and thinned to the required distance, it is preferable to start with young trees. A summer-fallow strip, wide enough for some form of cultivation is preferable. Seedlings should be set about a foot apart and planted in early spring. A single row is preferred. It is advisable to set them a little deeper when transplanting. In order to encourage a bushy growth, one-year old trees can be cut back to within an inch or two of the surface, cut back to about a foot in height the second season, and trimming to the desired shape can start the third year.

After a caragana hedge has been firmly established, trimming is necessary every year. At the Dominion Experimental Station, Scott, caragana hedges are trimmed during the last week in June. After that date there is sufficient growth to cover up the wounds. Their appearance can be better maintained by trimming off irregular second growths a few weeks later.

Just what permanent shape should be maintained is a matter of taste. A rectangular shaped hedge lacks the gracefulness of one which incorporates gentle curves. It is preferable from a standpoint of balanced appearance to have the width maintained, or slightly increased at the base. A rounded surface at the top offers a pleasing appearance. Future width should be borne in mind, so that it is often necessary trim back almost to the old wood.

Reliance

Not to the swift, the race;

Not to the strong, the fight;
Not to the righteous, perfect grace

Not to the wise, the light.

But often faltering feet
Come surest to the goal;
And they that walk in darkness meet
The sunrise of the soul.

A thousand times by night
The Syrian hosts have died;
A thousand times the vanquished right
Has risen glorified.

The truth the wise men sought
Was spoken by a child;
The alabaster box was brought
In trembling hands defiled.

Not from my torch the gleam,
Not from the stars above;
Not from my heart life's crystal stream,
But from the depths of love.
—Henry Van Dyke

Overworked Electionist

A reader asks for this piece of humorous verse dealing with muddled poetry. It was written by Carolyn Wells and appears in a collection of child verse belonging to the past century. Once there was a little boy whose name was Robert Reece, And every Friday afternoon he had to speak a piece, So many poems thus he learned that soon he had a store Of recitations in his head and still kept learning more; And now this is what happened he got called upon one week And totally forgot the piece he was about to speak! His brain was cudgled. Not a word remained within his head! And so he spoke at random and this is what he said:

"My beautiful, my beautiful who standeth meekly by,
It was the schooner Hesperus—the breaking waves dashed high
Why is this forum crowded? What means this stir in Rome?
Under the spreading chestnut tree, there is no place like home!"

"When freedom from her

mountain height cried, Twinkle little star,
Shoot if you must this old grey head, King Henry of Navarre
Roll on, thou deep and dark blue castle crag of Drachenfels,
My name is Noval, on the Grampian Hills, ring out wild bells

"If your waking, call me early to be or not to be
The curfew must not ring to-night! Oh woodsman spare that tree!
Charge, Chester, charge! on, Stanley, on! and let who will be clever!
The boy stood on the burning deck, but I got on forever!

His elocution was superb, his voice and gestures fine;
His school mates all applauded as he finished the last line;
"I see it doesn't matter," Robert thought, "what words I say,
"As long as I declaim with oratorical display!"

other means, to locate at Fort Rae, in the Great Slave Lake area. The aim is to study meteorology, terrestrial magnetism, aurora and atmospheric electricity, and by correlating the data from all stations to obtain a synoptic view of these various fields through the period of one year from August 1932. This is expected to provide valuable insight into the phenomena as they occur in high latitudes and in general problems which have presented themselves in these subjects in all latitudes.—Nanton News.

Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, premier of Nova Scotia, accompanied by Mrs. Harrington, left Halifax recently for Montreal where they boarded S.S. Duchess of Bedford for a short holiday in the Old Country. During his absence, Hon. Percy C. Black will be acting premier of the province.

"It is not too much to say that any improvement in the revenues of the railroads will immediately make itself felt in all channels of trade and that the maintenance of railroad solvency will do more than any other domestic factor to restore strength to the nation's institutions," says an editorial in the Charleston, S. C., Post.

The "career open to merit" in railway affairs is well illustrated in the case of Charles H. Ewing, a railroader for 49 consecutive years, recently promoted president of the Reading Company. In 1883, at the age of 17, Ewing began his railroad career as a rodman in the employ of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway, now the Reading Company.

HARD TIMES?

When any of us receive an invitation to come over Sunday for dinner friend wife garnishes the table about this way: At least two kinds of meat, several kinds of preserves, jams and jellies, vegetables, pickles and fruit salad, and perchance for desert there are two kinds of pie, cake and sauce, tea or coffee and milk with an apology that "I wasn't prepared today."—Who said hard times?

Don't forget that your plow equipped with Joints will turn under all those weeds and save you another trip across your field. We often squander dollars when a small investment would save us many times the cost of investment. The cost of a set of Joints would be nominal compared with the cost of operating your outfit over the field again.

Weary Willy dropped on the ground beside Tired Tim, folded his coat up under his head, and relaxed with a deep sigh of contentment.

"Tim," he said, I feel just like a flapper."

"Whateya mean, like a flapper?"
